

WORKSHOP

INDÚSTRIA CERÂMICA 4.0

2 fevereiro 2017

António Paulino is developing his thesis in the doctoral program in Electrotechnical Engineering, University of Coimbra, obtained a graduation in Electrotechnical Engineering, Telecommunication and Electronics branch, and a Master degree in Electrotechnical Engineering, Computer branch, University of Coimbra. Cisco CCNA teacher certification for Cisco Academy of Management and Technology School of Oliveira do Hospital. Professional Experience:

June 1997 to August 1997: Researcher for Institute of Systems and Robotics, Coimbra, on a graphical system for 3D trajectory visualization;

From 2000 until 2003 worked as a researcher at Institute of Systems and Robotics, Coimbra, where developed and implemented localization and guidance system for non-holonomic system using computer vision;

From 2003 to present teacher at Management and Technology School of Oliveira do Hospital, Polytechnic Institute of Coimbra, where teaches electronics and computer networks subjects;

From 2007 to 2012 founder and CTO of WSBP Electronics. A company focused on developing building management hardware and software;

From 2012 to present founder and CTO of Tulamove. A company focused on developing industrial solutions for production of data storage and data mining systems.